4. Is there anything in your experience that would make this a difficult issue for you to deal with as a workshop leader?

Please note, that it is common with a project like this for people with a history of abuse to feel compelled to help. This can enhance or undermine one's effectiveness in talking about this difficult issue, depending upon the opportunities one has had to work through the impact of these experiences on his or her adult life.

We are not asking you to discuss the details of your history. We want you to consider whether some roles might be more difficult for you than others and to help us realistically assess where your best contribution can be made.
